Profile

I am a hard-working university student looking for knowledge, experience and work for further progress. I am currently studying at the Ivan Franko National University of Lviv, where I am studying C++. I used to study at the Drohobych Lyceum, where I studied Java for a year and a half, it was here that I gained the most knowledge of programming, and for another six months I studied the Web, namely Html. I also already have the experience of speaking in front of an audience, because I spoke at the Small Academy of Sciences. I successfully finished Java camp at Sigma Software in February.
